

University of New England
College of Arts and Sciences

HONR 180: Introduction to Research Across the Disciplines

Schedule of Presentations: Spring 2010

- Jan 25 Mr. Jeff Ball, Department of History, "Architecture as Local and National History"
- Feb 8 Dr. Deena Small, Department of Chemistry and Physics, "Biological and Chemical Regulators of Fat Cell Development"
- Feb 15 Dr. Charles Tilburg, Department of Marine Science, "Coastal Oceanography: Mis-adventures in Saco Bay"
- Feb 22 Dr. Christine Feurt, Department of Environmental Studies – "Protecting Our Children's Water - Using Collaborative Learning to Frame and Implement Ecosystem Management"
- Mar 1 Dr. Julie Mueller, Department of Political Science, "A Critical Theory Approach to International Political Economy"
- Mar 8 Dr. David Livingstone Smith, Department of Philosophy, "Deception: A Philosophical Approach"
- Mar 22 Dr. Amy Keirstead, Department of Chemistry and Physics, "Navigating the Nanoworld: Adventures in Molecular Electronics"
- Mar 29 Dr. James Sulikowski, Department of Marine Science, "Fish, Research, and the Pursuit of Greatness"
- Apr 5 Dr. Glenn Stevenson, Department of Psychology, "Evaluation of Novel Drugs for the Treatment of Pain and Addiction"
- Apr 12 Dr. Eric Zuelow, Department of History, "From Irish Travel to English Pubs: A Vacation Through Heritage and Identity"
- Apr 19 Dr. Jennifer Tuttle, Department of English, "Women's Writing and the Scholarship of Recovery"
- Apr 26 Dr. Michael Arciero, Department of Mathematics, "Spectral Analysis: From Mathematical Theory to DNA Coding Region Identification"
- May 3 Dr. Teresa Dzieweczynski, Department Psychology, "Who You Hang Out With Really Does Matter: Studying Social Environment in Fish"

Presentations are on Mondays from 3:30-4:50 in Alford Room 205

All are welcome to attend.