Samuel A. McReynolds, Ph.D. | smcreynolds@une.edu

This spring travel course fulfills the Citizenship graduation requirement and includes spending nine days in March over spring break in Mexico. Students will spend their first few days in Cuernavaca, an important cultural center in Central Mexico, where they will live with host families, immerse themselves in the community and learn about Mexican culture and history. Students will then travel to the nearby village of Amatlán, where they will stay at an innovative ecotourism center; engage in hands-on service, including teaching English in the local school; and learning about Amatlán's unique cultural heritage. The course also includes a city tour of Cuernavaca, a visit to a Temazcal bath and a visit to the ancient pyramid of Xochicalco.

Students are encouraged to apply for travel scholarships in the Global Education Office.
