Biddeford campus has new custom computer tables, study carrels, and tables. Portland Campus has new carrels, study tables and reference desks. Both libraries have new chairs.

New Furniture!

STAFF PICK
Brought to you by Andrew Golub
Dean of Library Services

The Art of Fielding by Chad Harbach is a great, relatable, and moving novel set in the world of higher education that deals with academia, baseball, and Moby-Dick. These are three of my favorite things, so I found much in the book to admire.

I have heard that all our required textbooks are on Reserve, is that true? - Partly true. While Library Services does not routinely purchase required textbooks for every course, we do try to put any required textbooks on Reserve that we already own. And since many required textbooks are standard texts that we have, we are happy to report that many required texts are on Reserve. To check, use the method explained above, or do a search by Title in the Library Catalog.

Find "University of New England Libraries" on Facebook

Default image