ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY OF NEW ENGLAND

The University of New England is Maine's largest private university, with two beautiful coastal campuses in Maine, a one-of-a-kind study-abroad campus in Tangier, Morocco, and an array of flexible online offerings. In an uncommonly welcoming and supportive community, we offer hands-on learning, empowering students to make a positive impact in a world full of challenges. We are the state's top provider of health professionals and home to Maine's only medical and dental colleges, a variety of other interprofessionally aligned health care programs, and nationally recognized degree paths in the marine sciences, the natural and social sciences, business, the humanities, and the arts. COLLEGE OF OSTEOPATHIC MEDICINE

The University of New England College of Osteopathic Medicine was founded in 1978 on a beautiful coastal campus in southern Maine. It is the only osteopathic medical school in New England. The college currently enrolls approximately 700 medical students, about half of whom come from the six-state New England region and the rest from other U.S. states and a number of foreign countries. To date, the college has graduated more than 3,500 osteopathic physicians.

The College of Osteopathic Medicine emphasizes the education of primary care physicians. More than 60 % of its graduates go on to practice in the primary care specialties. The college has a 2+2 curriculum: two years of didactic training, followed by two years of clinical clerkships. The College of Osteopathic Medicine is committed to meeting the challenge of training physicians for the 21st century.

The medical school is housed in the 80,000-square-foot Harold Alfond Center for Health Sciences, a modern science education facility and a major medical and health sciences resource for the region. The Pickus Center for Biomedical Research, with its Cécile Morgane Research Laboratories, offers students and faculty exceptional facilities for conducting research. Leonard Hall is an educational facility offering the latest in state-of-the-art educational technology that allows for case-based learning and other innovative educational learning experiences.

The University of New England College of Osteopathic Medicine is accredited by the American Osteopathic Association.

THE POMP BEHIND THE CIRCUMSTANCE

Academic Regalia

THE GOWN

The history of the academic gown goes back to the 12th century. During this period, everyone — both men and women, royalty, lay folk, clerics, tradesmen, students — wore long flowing robes. The apparel varied in elegance according to the rank and wealth of the owner, from simple rough worsteds to rich gold brocades wrought with tassels and trimmed with colorful velvet and rich furs. It was in this period that the first organized bodies of learning were formed. From the gowns worn in the “universities” of the period have evolved the academic costumes of today.

The bachelor's gown is a simple design falling straight from a rather elaborate yoke with long pointed sleeves. The gown worn by a master has long, closed, somewhat fuller sleeves, which reach nearly to the wearer's knees. The arms go through slits at the elbow, giving the appearance of short sleeves. The doctoral gown is cut much fuller and has large bell-shaped sleeves. The gowns are usually, but not always, black, and those of bachelors and masters are generally devoid of ornamentation. The doctoral gowns are distinguished by the five-inch velvet panel around the neck and down both sides of the front as well as by three-inch velvet bars sewn on each sleeve. The color of the velvet trim may be black or may indicate the nature of the degree. For example, the color designating a Doctor of Medicine is green.

THE HOOD

The hood seems to have had a somewhat practical origin. Medieval monks used their hood for two purposes: to protect their shaved heads in the winter and as a container in which to collect alms.

Today the hood serves as the most symbolic part of the academic regalia by which the observer can ascertain the wearer's level and kind of degree. The bachelor's hood is the smallest, being three feet long. The velvet trim along the edges, indicating the nature of the degree, is two inches wide. The master's hood is six inches longer and bears a three-inch velvet trim.

The doctoral hood presented today is a full four feet long and exhibits a five-inch, green velvet trim indicating the medical degree.

The colorful interior of the hood, visible from behind, indicates by hue the degree-granting institution. The University of New England's colors are blue and grey.

CLASS OF 1982

ACCEPTING ON BEHALF AND GRADUATION SPEAKER

CRAIG BOISVERT, D.O. '82

former Vice President for Academic Affairs, Dean, West Virginia School of Osteopathic Medicine

Craig S. Boisvert is a graduate of the University of New England College of Osteopathic Medicine and a member of the UNE Alumni Association. He is certified in family practice by the American Osteopathic Board of Family Practice and a fellow of the American College of Osteopathic Family Physicians.

After more than three decades at the West Virginia School of Osteopathic Medicine, Boisvert recently retired as vice president for Academic Affairs and dean and professor of family medicine. He currently serves as professor emeritus. Before becoming dean, he served as section chair for family practice, chair of the Clinical Sciences Department, and associate dean of Predoctoral Clinical Education. He also served as a health care provider for 25 years at the Robert C. Byrd Clinic in Lewisburg, West Virginia, and the Greenbrier Valley Medical Center in Ronceverte, West Virginia, and as medical director for the White River Rural Health Center in Augusta, Arkansas.

Boisvert is a member of the American Osteopathic Association, the West Virginia Osteopathic Medical Association, the American College of Osteopathic Family Physicians, and the West Virginia Society of the American College of Osteopathic Family Physicians. He is a past president of the West Virginia Society of ACOFP, the Arkansas Chapter of the American College of Osteopathic Family Physicians, and the West Virginia Affiliate of the American Heart Association.

Dr. Boisvert has served on many professional boards and committees, including as vice chair of the board of the Robert C. Byrd Clinic in Lewisburg, West Virginia, and chair of the Mountain State Osteopathic Postgraduate Institute. He served on the West Virginia Center for Translational Science Institute Guiding Council, the West Virginia Higher Education Policy Commission's Rural Health Initiative Leadership Team, and the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources/ Bureau of Public Health's Office of Maternal, Child, and Family Health, Division of Research, Evaluation, and Planning Infant and Maternal Mortality Review.

OSTEOPATHIC OATH

I do hereby affirm my loyalty to the profession I am about to enter. I will be mindful always of my great responsibility to preserve the health and life of my patients, to retain their confidence and respect both as a physician and a friend who will guard their secrets with scrupulous honor and fidelity, to perform faithfully my professional duties, to employ only those recognized methods of treatment consistent with good judgment and with my skill and ability, keeping in mind always nature's laws and the body's inherent capacity for recovery.

I will be ever vigilant in aiding the general welfare of the community, sustaining its laws and institutions, not engaging in those practices which will in any way bring shame or discredit upon myself or my profession. I will give no drugs for deadly purposes to any person, though it be asked of me.

I will endeavor to work in accord with my colleagues in a spirit of progressive cooperation and never by word or act cast imputations upon them or their rightful practices.

I will look with respect and esteem upon all those who have taught me my art. To my college I will be loyal and strive always for its best interests and for the interests of the students who will come after me.

I will be ever alert to further the application of basic biologic truths to the healing arts and to develop the principles of osteopathy, which were first enunciated by Andrew Taylor Still.

In the presence of this gathering, I bind myself to my oath.
