“AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL”

Lyrics by Katharine Lee Bates

Music by Samuel A. Ward

O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain!
America! America!
God shed His grace on thee
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea!

O beautiful for pilgrim feet
Whose stern impassioned stress
A thoroughfare of freedom beat
Across the wilderness!
America! America!
God mend thine every flaw,
Confirm thy soul in self-control,
Thy liberty in law!

THE POMP BEHIND THE CIRCUMSTANCE

Ceremonial Symbols

GONFALONS

A gonfalon is a banner suspended from a crossbar that bears a school’s name and university seal. The name dates back to medieval times in Florence, Italy, where each neighborhood was represented at a town meeting, known as a “confalone,” by its own flag, which displayed a unique coat of arms. Eventually, the word “confalone” became associated with the flag itself. Gonfalons were later used to identify households, fighting units, or offices. Religious communities used them to represent holy symbols during processions. During the Renaissance and Enlightenment periods, gonfalons gained popularity at educational institutions to symbolize different schools and disciplines within an institution. Each college within the University of New England is represented today by its own gonfalon, carried by a student, known as a “gonfalonier,” who leads their college in the processional.

THE GOWN

The history of the academic gown goes back to the 12th century. During this period, everyone — both men and women, royalty, lay folk, clerics, tradesmen, students — wore long flowing robes. The apparel varied in elegance according to the rank and wealth of the owner, from simple rough worsteds to rich gold brocades wrought with tassels and trimmed with colorful velvet and rich furs. It was in this period that the first organized bodies of learning were formed. From the gowns worn in the “universities” of the period have evolved the academic costumes of today.

The bachelor’s gown is of simple design, falling straight from a rather elaborate yoke with long pointed sleeves. The gown worn by a master has long, closed, somewhat fuller sleeves, which reach nearly to the wearer’s knees. The arms go through slits at the elbow, giving the appearance of short sleeves. The doctoral gown is cut much fuller and has large bell-shaped sleeves. The gowns are usually, but not always, black, and those of bachelors and masters are generally devoid of ornamentation. The doctoral gowns are distinguished by the five-inch velvet panel around the neck and down both sides of the front, as well as three-inch velvet bars sewn on each sleeve.

The color of the velvet trim may be black or may indicate the nature of the degree of the wearer. For example, the color designating a Doctor of Philosophy is dark blue; a Doctor of Medicine, green; a Doctor of Education, light blue; a Doctor of Science, golden yellow; a Doctor of Humanities, white; a Doctor of Law, purple.

THE HOOD

The hood seems to have had a somewhat practical origin. Medieval monks used their hoods for two purposes: to protect their shaved heads in the winter and as containers in which to collect alms.

Today, the hood serves as the most symbolic part of the academic regalia by which the observer can ascertain the level and kind of degree. At three feet long, the bachelor’s hood is the smallest. The velvet trim along the edges, indicating the nature of the degree, is two inches wide. The master’s hood is three feet, six inches long, and has a three-inch velvet trim. The doctor’s hood is four feet long, has a five-inch wide trim, and is further distinguished by panels at the sides. The colorful interior of the hoods, visible from behind, indicates by hue the degree-granting institution.

Look for the following hoods today: Master of Health Care Management (gold), Master of Public Health (salmon), Master of Science in Applied Nutrition (gold), Master of Science in Athletic Training (sage), Master of Science in Education (light blue), Master of Science in Health Informatics (gold), Master of Health Care Administration (drab), Master of Occupational Therapy (slate blue), Master of Science in Biological Sciences (goldenrod), Master of Science in Marine Sciences (goldenrod), Master of Science in Physician Assistant (gold), Master of Social Work (citron), Doctor of Dental Medicine (lilac), Doctor of Education (light blue), Doctor of Nursing Practice/Nurse Anesthesia (apricot), Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine (green), Doctor of Pharmacy (olive), and Doctor of Physical Therapy (teal).

* Certificate of Advanced Graduate Study (post-master’s) in Education signified by a single blue cord.

THE MACE

The University Mace serves as a symbol of authority, just as it did in the Middle Ages when a mace bearer accompanied an official taking office or opening court. From the 16th century in England and since colonial days in America, it has become a symbol of office used in ceremonies and is carried by the procession leader or mace bearer.

ACADEMIC HONORS

Undergraduate students graduating with academic honors will be recognized for their academic excellence by cords of different colors draped around their necks. Summa cum laude (gold), magna cum laude (blue), cum laude (silver).

MICHELLE JOHNSON, M.A.

Retired U.S. Air Force Lt. Gen.

Commencement Speaker

Honorary Degree Recipient, Doctor of Humane Letters

Michelle Johnson, retired U.S. Air Force Lt. Gen., started out as a small-town cadet from Spencer, Iowa, and rose through the ranks to become the first woman and 19th superintendent of the U.S. Air Force Academy, a position she held from 2013 to 2017. In this role, which is similar to that of a college president, she served as the military commander of the academy.

Her remarkable 36-year military career began at the academy, where she was a 1981 distinguished graduate with a Bachelor of Science in operations research. As a cadet, Johnson broke barriers as the first woman to serve as cadet wing commander and was twice named a basketball Academic All-American. As the first woman Rhodes Scholar in the U.S. Air Force, Johnson earned a Master of Arts in politics and economics from Oxford University.

During her active-duty career, she completed over 3,600 flying hours as a command pilot, taught political science and instructed powered flights for cadets at the Air Force Academy from 1989 to 1992. Johnson's service reached the highest levels of government when she served as Air Force aide for the White House and carried the nuclear launch codes for both Presidents George H.W. Bush and William J. Clinton.

Her leadership roles spanned policy, communications, logistics, and cyber operations. Johnson commanded flying units in the U.S. and abroad. She was deployed many times to Afghanistan and Iraq. In Belgium, she served as NATO's deputy chief of staff for operations and intelligence at Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe.

After retiring, Johnson continued to break ground as the first woman to serve as senior vice president and head of referee operations for the National Basketball Association, overseeing officiation for the NBA, WNBA, and G League. Johnson currently serves on nonprofit boards supporting veterans, youth sports, and education.

Former UNE Chairman of the Board of Trustees

Business Executive

Honorary Degree Recipient, Doctor of Humane Letters

David L. Anderson, Ph.D., is a seasoned business executive with a diverse career spanning technology, consulting, and higher education. As the managing director of Supply Chain Ventures, a Biddeford-based venture capital firm, he focuses on angel and early-stage investments in innovative marketing, medical, and supply chain businesses.

Anderson's corporate experience includes a decade at Accenture, where he was instrumental in developing the company's $2 billion supply chain management practices across North America, Asia, and Europe. He also held executive positions at Temple, Barker & Sloane Inc. and Data Resources Inc.

Anderson has made significant contributions to UNE, including joining the UNE Board of Trustees in 2011. He served as Board Treasurer from 2014 to 2015 and Board Chair from 2015 to 2019, where he oversaw the committee that led the search for and ultimate selection of UNE President James Herbert. Even after completing his Board service in 2023, his engagement with UNE has continued. He serves on the University's Investment Committee and chairs the ad hoc Alternative Investment Subcommittee, overseeing UNE's growing endowment.

Anderson has been a lead donor and consultant for UNE's entrepreneurial innovation competition, which gained traction and eventually led to the creation of a business and entrepreneurial-focused makerspace at the University. He and his wife Lindy have been dedicated mentors and sponsors to many UNE students, providing guidance and a welcoming environment throughout their academic journeys. The Andersons established an endowed scholarship and supported additional educational and research initiatives at the University, including UNE's Pickus Center for Biomedical Research.

Anderson earned a Ph.D. in econometrics and finance from Boston College and a B.A. in economics from the University of Connecticut.
