INNOVATION FOR A HEALTHIER PLANET

CAREER EXPLORATION

For the past several years, the University of New England has hosted a Dental Careers Exploration Camp. This year, for the third time, rather than focusing solely on careers in the dental field, the camp will feature several health professions in the University's third annual interprofessional health careers exploration camp.

The goal of the camp is to provide an opportunity for high school students from rural or underserved communities to explore various careers in healthcare.

Applications are accepted from students throughout the US who will be entering grades 10 - 12 in Fall 2020. Maine students from rural and underserved communities, and those who have more limited access to such opportunities will be given priority consideration.

ABOUT THE CAMP

At this year's camp, students will participate in fun hands-on activities while learning about careers in:

- Dentistry
- Medicine
- Nursing
- Pharmacy
- Public Health

Students will also participate in activities organized by the Executive Director of the organization iXplore STEM, and more!

While participating in the camp, students will receive campus tours and a presentation from the University's Admissions Department.

The college experience:

This camp is an overnight camp, designed to replicate some of the college experience. As such, students will stay in dorms on the University's Biddeford Campus and will receive meals at the campus dining hall.

Camp coordinators and chaperones will stay with the students while the camp is in session. The University will provide transportation to and from the Portland and Biddeford campuses.
