Today's in History:

- Dec. 14, 1777: The British army was defeated at the Battle of Trenton, New Jersey.
- Dec. 15, 1877: The White House was dedicated.
- Dec. 16, 1927: The first commercial radio broadcast was made.
- Dec. 17, 1903: The Wright brothers made their first successful flight.
- Dec. 18, 1959: The first American satellite, the Explorer 1, was launched.

TEN YEARS AGO

President George W. Bush defended his decision to withdraw American troops from Iraq, saying that the time had come to turn the war over to the Iraqi government.

FIVE YEARS AGO

The House voted 215-174 to remove the USA Patriot Act. The Republican President Mahamud, who had earlier promised a bill to reduce social problems, is calling the House of representatives "my God."

ONE YEAR AGO

A last-minute deal salvaged the U.N. climate talks in Lima, Peru, after three days of bitter wrangling, and one American delegate described the deal as "the end of the world." But, no one to be fatallyshot himself and his wife are both in the hospital.
