USES AND DISCLOSURES continued

Do research
• We can use or share your information for health research.

Comply with the law
• We will share information about you if state or federal laws require it, including with the Department of Health and Human Services if it wants to see that we’re complying with federal privacy law.

Respond to organ and tissue donation requests
• We can share health information about you with organ procurement organizations.

Work with a medical examiner or funeral director
• We can share health information with a coroner, medical examiner, or funeral director when an individual dies.

Address workers’ compensation, law enforcement, and other government requests
• We can use or share health information about you:
  ▪ For workers’ compensation claims.
  ▪ For law enforcement purposes or with a law enforcement official in certain circumstances.
  ▪ With health oversight agencies for activities authorized by law.
  ▪ For special government functions such as military, national security, and presidential protective services.

Respond to lawsuits and legal actions
• If you are involved in lawsuits or disputes, we may disclose protected health information (PHI) about you in response to a court order. We may disclose PHI about you in response to a subpoena, discovery request, or other lawful process by someone else involved in the dispute, but only if a court order has been obtained to protect the information requested or an authorization has been received.

Correctional Facilities
• If you are an inmate of a state or local prison or under the custody of a law enforcement official, we may disclose health information about you to the facility or to a law enforcement official.

OUR RESPONSIBILITIES
• We are required by law to maintain the privacy and security of your protected health information.
• We will let you know promptly if a breach occurs that may have compromised the privacy or security of your information.
• We must follow the duties and privacy practices described in this notice and give you a copy of it.
• We will not use or share your information other than as described here unless you tell us we can in writing.
  If you tell us we can, you may change your mind at any time. Let us know in writing if you change your mind.

This section explains your rights and some of our responsibilities to help you.

YOUR RIGHTS

When it comes to your health information, you have certain rights.

Get an electronic or paper copy of your medical record
- You can ask to see or get an electronic or paper copy of your medical record and other health information we have about you. Ask us how you can do this.
- We will provide a copy or a summary of your health information, usually within 30 days of your request. We may charge a reasonable, cost-based fee.

Ask us to correct your medical record
- You can ask us to correct health information about you that you think is incorrect or incomplete. Ask us how to do this.
- We may say “no” to your request, but we’ll tell you why in writing within 60 days.

Request confidential communications
- You can ask us to contact you in a specific way (for example, home or office phone) or to send mail to a different address.
- We will say “yes” to all reasonable requests.

Get a list of those with whom we’ve shared information
- You can ask us for a list (accounting) of the times we’ve shared your health information for six years prior to the date you ask, who we shared it with and why.
- We will include all the disclosures except for those about treatment, payment, and health care operations, and certain other disclosures (such as any you asked us to make). We’ll provide one accounting a year for free but will charge a reasonable, cost-based fee if you ask for another one within 12 months.

Get a copy of this privacy notice
- You can ask for a paper copy of this notice at any time, even if you have agreed to receive the notice electronically. We will provide you with a paper copy promptly.

Choose someone to act for you
- If you have given someone medical power of attorney or someone is your legal guardian, that person can exercise your rights and make choices about your health information.
- We will make sure that person has this authority and can act for you before we take any action.

File a complaint if you feel your rights are violated
- You can file a complaint if you feel we have violated your rights by contacting us using the contact information listed in this publication.
- You can file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Office for Civil Rights by sending a letter to: 200 Independence Avenue, S.W. Washington, D.C. 20201, calling 1-877-696-6775, or visiting www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy/hipaa/complaints/
- We will not retaliate against you for filing a compliant.

YOUR CHOICES

For certain health information, you can tell us your choices about what we share.

If you have a clear preference for how we share your information in the situations described below, let us know. Tell us what you want us to do and we will follow your instructions.

In these cases, you have both the right and choice to tell us to:
- Share information with your family, close friends, or others involved in your care.
- Share information in a disaster relief situation.
- Include your information in a hospital directory.
- Not contact you for fundraising efforts.
- Most sharing of psychotherapy notes.

In the case of fundraising:
- We may contact you for fundraising efforts, but you can tell us not to contact you again.

USES AND DISCLOSURES

When it comes to your health information, you have certain rights.

We typically use or share your health information in the following ways.

Treat you
- We can use your health information and share it with other professionals who are treating you.

Run our organization
- We can use and share your health information to run our practice, improve your care, and contact you when necessary.

Bill for your services
- We can use and share your health information to bill and get payment from health plans or other entities.

How else can we use or share your health information?

We are allowed and may be required to share your information in other ways, usually in ways that contribute to the public good, such as public health and research. We have to meet many conditions in the law before we can share your information for these purposes. For more information see: www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy/hipaa/understanding/consumers/index.html

Help with public health and safety
- We can share health information about you for certain situations such as:
  - Preventing disease.
  - Helping with product recalls.
  - Reporting adverse reactions to medications.
  - Reporting suspicious abuse, neglect, or domestic violence, if required by law.
  - Preventing or reducing a serious and imminent threat to anyone’s health or safety.
